Behavioral research suggests that the most effective people are those who understand themselves, both their strengths and weaknesses, so they can develop strategies to meet the demands of their environment. Our ability to interact effectively in any given environment may determine the difference between our success or failure in the workplace and in our personal relationships.

Effective use of time starts with an accurate perception of ourselves. This report was designed to quantify information on how you see yourself. The report translates that information into how others may see you to assist in formulating strategies to better manage your time.

Is the report 100% true? Yes, no and maybe. We are only measuring behavior. We only report statements which are true for you and areas of behavior in which you show tendencies. Delete any statement from this report that you feel doesn't apply after checking with a friend or colleague to see if they agree with you. Sometimes we are not aware of certain behavioral traits that are seen by others.

*"All people exhibit all four behavioral factors in varying degrees of intensity."
-W.M. Marston*

GENERAL CHARACTERISTICS

Based on your responses, the report has selected general statements to provide a broad understanding of your work style. These statements identify the basic natural behavior that you bring to the job. That is, if left on your own, HOW YOU WOULD CHOOSE TO DO THE JOB. Use the general characteristics to gain a better understanding of your natural behavior.

Jane can be aggressive and direct, but still be considerate of people. Other people realize that directness is one of her great strengths. She is driven toward goals completion and wants to be in a position to set policy that will allow her to meet those goals. She is a self-starter who likes new projects and is most comfortable when involved with a wide scope of activities. She embraces visions not always seen by others. Jane's creative mind allows her to see the "big picture." Jane enjoys authority, independence and the freedom that goes with her aggressive approach to problem solving. Most people see her as a high risk-taker. Her view is, "nothing ventured, nothing gained." She prefers an environment with variety and change. She is at her best when many projects are underway at once. She likes to be forceful and direct when dealing with others. Her desire for results is readily apparent to the people with whom she works. Jane has high ego strengths and may be viewed by some as egotistical. She wants to be seen as an individual who is totally keyed to results. She wants to get things done in a manner that is consistent with her perception of the "right way" of doing things.

Jane finds it easy to share her opinions on solving work-related problems. Sometimes she becomes emotionally involved in the decision-making process. She prefers authority equal to her responsibility. She is decisive and prefers to work for a decisive manager. She can experience stress if her manager does not possess similar traits. When faced with a tough decision, she will try to sell you

NOTES

Blank lined area for taking notes.

This section of your report is designed to identify time wasters that may impact your overall time use effectiveness. Possible causes and solutions will serve as a basis for creating an effective plan for maximizing your use of TIME and increasing your PERFORMANCE.

1. FIREFIGHTING

Firefighting is often defined as being pulled away from priority tasks to answer questions, offer solutions, delegate or solve problem-related minor issues. These issues usually "flare up" quickly and are "put out" quickly.

POSSIBLE CAUSES:

- Desire to solve problems quickly and sometimes without adequate information
- Lack of delegation
- Lack of standard operating procedures
- Poor/wrong priorities
- Failure to fit intensity to the situation

POSSIBLE SOLUTIONS:

- Establish a plan
- Create operational procedures for tasks and known problems
- Establish a "management by objectives" approach

2. LACK OF A WRITTEN PLAN

A plan in this context may be an overall business plan including mission, goals, objectives, task requirements and utilization of resources. It may also simply mean written priorities and a written daily plan of action.

POSSIBLE CAUSES:

- Action oriented, want to get things done now
- Priorities keep changing (self- or other-imposed)
- Have been successful without a plan in the past
- Want to "go with the flow" and not be stifled by a written daily agenda

POSSIBLE SOLUTIONS:

- Write down personal and job-related values and prioritize them
- Write out a long-term plan that will support those values

NOTES

- Recognize that by having priorities clearly in mind, constant change will be replaced with change-by-design

NOTES

3. POOR DELEGATION

Poor delegation usually means the inability to discriminate between tasks needing your time and attention, and those others are capable of accomplishing.

POSSIBLE CAUSES:

- Do not want to give up control
- Do not trust the abilities of others
- Do not understand the abilities of others
- Fear the talents of others
- Do not want to overload others

POSSIBLE SOLUTIONS:

- Train and mentor others
- Develop a support team
- Give people the opportunity to help
- Recognize the time spent training others on routine tasks will result in gained cumulative time for higher priority tasks

4. SNAP DECISIONS

Snap decisions in this context are those decisions that are made too quickly without having all the necessary information.

POSSIBLE CAUSES:

- Impatience overrides need to wait for more information
- Try to do too much
- Failure to plan in advance
- Lack specific goals

POSSIBLE SOLUTIONS:

- Ask for recommendations
- Establish process for decisions prior to situation occurring

CHECKLIST FOR COMMUNICATING

This section of the report is a lists of things to DO when communicating with you. Read each statement and then identify 3 or 4 that are most important to your optimal use of time. By sharing this information with others, the better they can plan meetings, presentations and informal discussions. This will result in more efficient and time saving the communications.

Do:

- Provide questions, alternatives and choices for making her own decisions.
- Offer special, immediate and continuing incentives for her willingness to take risks.
- Talk about her, her goals and the opinions she finds stimulating.
- Be clear, specific, brief and to the point.
- Read the body language--look for impatience or disapproval.
- Provide facts and figures about probability of success, or effectiveness of options.
- Provide a warm and friendly environment.
- Ask for her opinions/ideas regarding people.
- Support the results, not the person, if you agree.
- Leave time for relating, socializing.
- Motivate and persuade by referring to objectives and results.
- Provide ideas for implementing action.
- Plan interaction that supports her dreams and intentions.

NOTES

DON'TS ON COMMUNICATING

This section of the report is a list of things NOT to do while communicating with you. Read each statement and identify those that cause the most frustration. By sharing this information, both parties can avoid time wasting interactions and achieve more effective communications.

Don't:

- Let disagreement reflect on her personally.
- Drive on to facts, figures, alternatives or abstractions.
- Waste time trying to be impersonal, judgmental or too task-oriented.
- "Dream" with her or you'll lose time.
- Try to convince by "personal" means.
- Ramble on, or waste her time.
- Take credit for her ideas.
- Leave decisions hanging in the air.
- Come with a ready-made decision, or make it for her.
- Direct or order.
- Ask rhetorical questions, or useless ones.
- Talk down to her.
- Try to build personal relationships.

NOTES

A person's behavior and feelings may be quickly telegraphed to others. This section provides additional information on Jane's self-perception and how, under certain conditions, others may perceive her behavior. Understanding this section will empower Jane to project the image that will allow her to control the situation.

"See Yourself As Others See You"

NOTES

SELF-PERCEPTION

Jane usually sees herself as being:

Pioneering
Competitive
Positive

Assertive
Confident
Winner

OTHERS' PERCEPTION

Under moderate pressure, tension, stress or fatigue, others may see her as being:

Demanding
Egotistical

Nervy
Aggressive

And, under extreme pressure, stress or fatigue, others may see her as being:

Abrasive
Arbitrary

Controlling
Opinionated

Based on Jane's responses, the report has marked those words that describe her personal behavior. They describe how she solves problems and meets challenges, influences people, responds to the pace of the environment and how she responds to rules and procedures set by others.

The Success Insights® Wheel is a powerful tool popularized in Europe. In addition to the text you have received about your behavioral style, the Wheel adds a visual representation that allows you to:

- View your natural behavioral style (circle).
- View your adapted behavioral style (star).
- Note the degree you are adapting your behavior.
- If you filled out the Work Environment Analysis, view the relationship of your behavior to your job.

Notice on the next page that your Natural style (circle) and your Adapted style (star) are plotted on the Wheel. If they are plotted in different boxes, then you are adapting your behavior. The further the two plotting points are from each other, the more you are adapting your behavior.

If you are part of a group or team who also took the behavioral assessment, it would be advantageous to get together, using each person's Wheel, and make a master Wheel that contains each person's Natural and Adapted style. This allows you to quickly see where conflict can occur. You will also be able to identify where communication, understanding and appreciation can be increased.
